

Canyon Hydro Is Now the Owner and Operator of The James Leffel & Co.

Deming, WA – August 29, 2023

The James Leffel & Co. is now part of the Canyon Hydro family of companies. Canyon Hydro acquired Leffel in 2019 and now operates the Leffel manufacturing facility in Springfield, Ohio.

In the four years since Canyon purchased Leffel, many refurbishment projects have been successfully undertaken and new turbines are being built under the Leffel brand as well. Canyon has also purchased a local machine shop to expand Leffel's manufacturing capabilities in Springfield, OH.

Since 1862, The James Leffel & Co. has specialized in the design and manufacture of hydraulic turbines in a wide range of capacities and types. Leffel equipment is best summarized as efficient and durable in design and construction.

In addition to providing new equipment, Leffel possesses the drawings and equipment to provide spare parts for all Leffel turbines. To compliment this service, we have highly knowledgeable personnel to provide field service and on-site inspections.

About Canyon Hydro

Canyon Hydro has been involved in the manufacture of hydroelectric systems for over 45 years. Canyon designs, engineers, and manufactures their products in the United States with production facilities in both Deming and Sumas, WA. Learn more at www.canyonhydro.com.